JOHN JAY WHITACRE AGAIN
(Youngstown Vindicator.)

And so our old and dear friend, John Jay Whitacre, comes to life again and sounds what Walt Whitman calls a "barbaric yawp over the roofs of the world" denouncing Senator Pomerene because, says John, "he doesn't measure up to my standards of greatness in statesmanship."

John knew the senator all his life, publicly declared him equal to any place, and supported him for election. Why this change? Simply because the senator refused to accept John's orders and by opposing Governor Cox to help John split his party.

In throwing off the attempt of this petty little fellow to rule him, Senator Pomerene proves himself again a resolute, self-respecting representative of the people. The senator's record is a fine one. He will not have opposition next year, and if conditions continue as they are now are, he will be triumphantly re-elected—John Jay to the contrary notwithstanding.

By the way, John Jay, the private citizen, will command mighty little of the following which he had as a congressman with a half hundred post offices to give away.

COMMUNICATIONWELCOMED BACK HOME

Mrs. Charity Robinson, who has been in Mt. Vernon since last February, came back to her home in Fredericktown a little over a week ago, and on Tuesday evening of last week her neighbors and friends to the number of about seventy-five gathered at her home and gave her a glad welcome. As the ladies of Middlebury township and vicinity are noted for going after things when it comes to getting up good meals, they certainly did justice to themselves on this occasion. It being announced that it was to be a cake and ice cream supper, a plentiful supply was on hand, and many brought other good things to eat.

It was surely good to be there. After supper, when all were well-filled, a good social time was enjoyed by all, and Mrs. Robinson, who always has a kind word and a friendly smile for her friends, expressed herself as highly pleased to have her friends with her at her home.

This article, we think, would be very incomplete did we not speak of Uncle Sam Strey's orchestra, which entertained us so well on this occasion, and as the midnight hour came on all returned to their homes wishing Mrs. Robinson many more happy days with us.

Those from a distance were: Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Painter and son, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Levering, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tabor, Mrs. Samuel Zent, Mrs. W. B. Herendeen, Mrs. Wilbur Blackburn, Mrs. Ellen Craft, Mrs. Asa Bigbee.

CALL EXTENDED

To Rev. Ira J. Houston by Congregational Church of Iowa City

Rev. Ira J. Houston, who has been pastor of the Congregational church of this city for over five years, has received a call to the Congregational church of Iowa City, Ia.

Mrs. C. C. Baughman of Bandon entertained 35 members of the M. E. church Ladies' Aid society Wednesday. Mrs. Hattie Pickard and Mrs. Katherine Harris of Mt. Vernon were out-of-town guests.

Mr. W. P. Bogardus, who was injured in Revelstoke, B. C., several weeks ago, has recovered completely and has proceeded on his westward trip to Los Angeles, San Francisco and Seattle.

Mrs. Fred Hagaman and children, Caroline and Homer, who have been visiting in Columbus, left for New York and New Haven today. They will meet Mr. Hagaman in Cleveland Heights the first of October, where he has a position of manual training teacher in the school.

The Misses Nellie Smith and Lena Marsh returned to Cleveland today, after a few days' visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Brining of Norton street. Miss Marsh sails Saturday on the steamship St. Paul for her home in Swansea, Eng., to become the bride of Mr. Leonard Pond of that place.
